JAMIE DRAKE A.S.I.D., who designed and oversaw the 2002 restoration of Gracie Mansion—the first home of the Museum of the City of New York—counts Mayor Michael Bloomberg and Madonna among his impressive roster of clients. Equally comfortable in traditional and contemporary styles, he has a natural gift for making modern interiors inviting, and enlivening traditional spaces with a fresh mix of contemporary elements. In addition to his work with his firm for 30 years, Drake Design Associates, Mr. Drake has partnered with other notable firms to create lines of furniture, faucetry, fabrics and rugs. In 2003, he was inducted into the Interior Design Hall of Fame.

GIL SCHAFER, whose spectacular Greek Revival-style home near Millbrook was recently featured in The New York Times, specializes in classical residential architecture with an emphasis on craftsmanship, livability, and the integration of landscape and interior decoration. Mr. Schafer is the principal of G.P. Schafer Architect—winner of three Palladio Awards for excellence in traditional residential design—and is a former chairman and current board member of the Institute of Classical Architecture & Classical America.
